Dear Coordinator:

Under the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. subsection 552, I am requesting information or records on relations between the Fuerzas Armadas Revolucionarias de Colombia (FARC) the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN), and the Frente Sandinista de Liberación Nacional (FSLN) between 1985-2007.

If there are any fees for searching for, reviewing, or copying the records, please let me know before you task my request.

If you deny all or any part of this request, please cite each specific exemption you think justifies your refusal to release the information and notify me of appeal procedures available under the law.

If you have any questions about handling this request, you may telephone me at [Redacted]

Dear

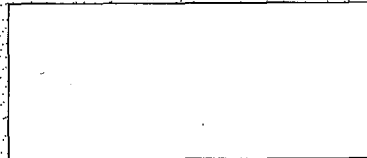

This is a final response to your 28 September 2008 Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request, received in the office of the Information and Privacy Coordinator on 16 October 2008, for “information or records on relations between the Fuerzas Armadas Revolucionarias de Colombia (FARC) the Farabundo Martí National Liberation Front (FMLN), and the Frente Sandinista de Liberación Nacional (FSLN) between 1985-2007.” We have assigned your request the reference number above. Please use this number when corresponding so that we can identify it easily.

The Agency cannot accept your FOIA request, in its current form, because it would require the Agency to perform an unreasonably burdensome search. The FOIA requires requesters to “reasonably describe” the information they seek so that professional employees familiar with the subject matter can locate responsive information with a reasonable amount of effort. Because of the breadth and lack of specificity of your request, and the way in which the Agency configures its records systems, the Agency cannot conduct a reasonable search for information responsive to your request. We encourage you to refine the scope of your request (such as narrower, more specific descriptions of, the information you seek) to enable the Agency to conduct a reasonable search for responsive information.

Oct. 22, 2008

Dear FOI director, U.S. Central Intelligence Agency:

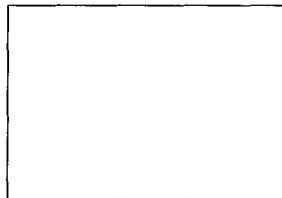

Please send me all correspondence and reports to and from the CIA regarding Romania and its political situation, from Dec. 15, 1989 to Feb. 1, 1990. e.g., reports from the ground in Romania, and analysis in the USA, the revolution's implications for U.S. and European politics, security and defense, etc.

Please note the historical distance of nearly two decades which renders the data less sensitive today. Please inform me of all my appeal options.

If records are available for routine release, please inform me. If any of these records are in readable computer format, please send them by disc or email rather than on paper. Please exempt me from fees as I am a low budget researcher working for the public and educational interest.

Please "redact and release," i.e., send parts of the request to me as they are completed, rather than waiting till all the records are compiled to send them all at once. If practicable, please divide this request into two parts, (1) a part that can be released with no third party consultations required (and/or can be easily located or require no severing), and so can be sent to me ASAP, and (2) a part that requires third party consultations and so conceptually could take a bit longer. If you wish to negotiate this request, please call or write me. Please do not send media clippings, as I have those. If there are records on this topic that have been release in reply to another person's FOI request, please send me those records also.

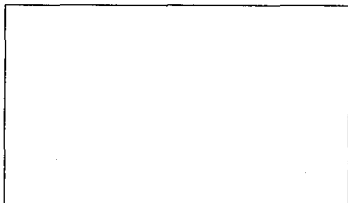

Sincerely yours,

APPROVED FOR RELEASE
DATE: 12-May-2010

NOV 19 2008

Dear Coordinator:

Under the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. Subsection 552, I am requesting information or records as described herein. This Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request is for a collection of documents iterating the entirety of actions taken on / upon / to / toward / onto / unto citizens of the United States in the time range of the year 2000 to present.

A document is meant to include: paper with text, a computerized record or file, any artifact containing information, any object upon which information was added, or the information itself independent of medium or mechanism. A search is utilized herein as a process by which the mathematical set of documents is refined to a subset, with this FOIA request describing a document search.

An action is intended to mean any action in any sense of the word, the sum meaning from all commonly accepted dictionaries of United States English, however including lack of action, and/or including awareness of such a defined action by another actor or actors, domestic or foreign, without initiated and/or successful counteraction, with this lack of counteraction or successful counteraction a sub-definition of action as the term is utilized in this FOIA request. For example, should it be the case that a multinational surveillance cadre exists, bypassing traditional norms and laws, then the inaction of not preventing foreign actors from acting thusly upon United States citizens, in such a hypothetical, would be included as actions of the Central Intelligence Agency, herein defined, in the subcomponent of lack of action and documents relating to action in the senses including, but not limited to, those described in this third paragraph are intended to be included in this FOIA request.

Summarily, action is defined herein as action in all senses of the word and/or lack of action, with allowed to occur a potentially subjective interpretation on a document-by-document basis upon results relating to the lack of action subcomponent of action as described in paragraph three, with this intended to relate to all actors domestic and foreign. This is a technical and precise definition towards a commonsense understanding of the term action as to avoid any possible linguistic miscommunication.

The specific search is for actions where the target or subject or, grammatically, direct object of the action was a citizen of the United States or a group including citizens of the United States, or can thusly be summarized and/or paraphrased by a native speaker of the Midwestern dialect of or broadcast standard of United States English.

Specific terminological instantiations such as "domestic intelligence", "domestic counterintelligence", "domestic psychological operations", "domestic maneuvers", "domestic exercises", "domestic program", "domestic surveillance" and "stateside actions", "stateside operations", "stateside maneuvers", "stateside exercises", "stateside program", "stateside surveillance" and "civilian targets", "civilian subjects", "civilian surveillance" are illustrative potential expansions upon the pattern described thus far and may or may not exist as actual terminology, however the pattern intended to be conveyed includes, but may not be limited to, "domestic...", "stateside...", "civilian..."

In the contingency that a portion of documents described herein exist are classified, please include, as an auxiliary to this request, a request for the total number or cardinality of the result set herein described, or, if more convenient, the number of such actions, with this a connected but concurrent FOIA request. An additional request to this FOIA request, is that in the event that a portion of documents that so exist that are classified, and in the event that the documents have a form of primary key, in the sense of computer science, presuming some form of a database exists, storing documents utilizing computing devices, if the entire list of these primary keys or otherwise utilized taxonomic identification per document can be released or otherwise if the entirety of the result set can be bestowed a taxonomic identifier per the collection, document collection #123456789, for example, with this allowing for rapidity in communication regarding the data set matching this search pattern's intent, avoiding recapitulation of the phrasing of this invocation to refine the set of total documents to the described subset.

As it is of use in matching documents to the search detailed in this FOIA request, the intended utilization of the resulting document collection is to exercise civic responsibility and to become well-informed regarding that, amidst what some might call a suspension of traditional constitutional understanding, occurrences exist that support argumentation for restoration of the traditional constitutional understanding.

I thank you for reviewing this FOIA request which includes a precise search pattern over a large number of documents within the timespan of the year 2000 to the present.

If there are any fees for searching for, reviewing, or copying the records, please let me know before you task my request. If you deny all or any part of this request, please cite each specific exemption you think justifies your refusal to release the information and notify me of appeal procedures available under the law.

Sincerely,

Dear

This is a final response to your undated Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request, received in the office of the Information and Privacy Coordinator on 19 November 2008, for "a collection of documents iterating the entirety of actions taken on/upon/to/toward/onto/unto citizens of the United States in the time range of the years 2000 to present." We have assigned your request the reference number above. Please use this number when corresponding so that we can identify it easily.

The Agency cannot accept your FOIA request, in its current form, because it would require the Agency to perform an unreasonably burdensome search. The FOIA requires requesters to "reasonably describe" the information they seek so that professional employees familiar with the subject matter can locate responsive information with a reasonable amount of effort. Because of the breadth and lack of specificity of your request, and the way in which the Agency configures its records systems, the Agency cannot conduct a reasonable search for information responsive to your request.

In addition, the mission of the Central Intelligence Agency is primarily concerned with foreign intelligence -- not domestic -- matters. Section 103 (d)(1) of the National Security Act, as amended, specifically provides that "the Agency shall have no police, subpoena, law-enforcement powers, or internal security functions." Therefore we decline to process your request.

FOIA REQUEST

Dear FOI Officer:

Pursuant to the federal Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552, I request access to and copies of any and all presently existing documents pertaining to, addressing or otherwise regarding the decision to post the cia.gov featured story titled "Be in the Know ... Subscribe to CIA News Feeds" on Friday, July 11, 2008 instead of on Thursday of that week (featured stories were typically posted on Thursdays at that time).

I would like to receive the information in electronic format. (CD-ROM.)

I agree to pay reasonable duplication fees for the processing of this request in an amount not to exceed $40. However, please notify me prior to your incurring any expenses in excess of that amount.

If my request is denied in whole or part, I ask that you justify all deletions by reference to specific exemptions of the act. I will also expect you to release all segregable portions of otherwise exempt material. I, of course, reserve the right to appeal your decision to withhold any information or to deny a waiver of fees.

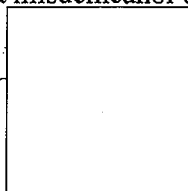

I look forward to your reply within 20 business days, as the statute requires.

Thank you for your assistance.

Perjury Statement:

Under Penalty of perjury, I hereby declare that I am the person named above and I understand that any falsification of this statement is punishable under the provisions of Title 18, United States Code (U.S.C.), Section 1001 by a fine of not more than $10,000 or by imprisonment of not more than five years, or both; and that requesting or obtaining any record(s) under false pretenses is punishable under the provisions of Title 5, U.S.C., Section 552a(i)(3) as a misdemeanor and by a fine of not more than $5,000.

which holds a vast government document database, along with many freelance articles that I have written, which have also been published in magazines and websites, including OpEdNews.com, UFO Magazine, FATE Magazine, and others.

Additionally, I agree to pay fees up to ten dollars, but please note I would prefer electronic delivery of the material to save on printing costs.

I respectfully request a copy of all publications/reports made by the DNI's Open Source Center for January of 2009. This request was originally filed with DNI, but they said the responsive records were at your office.

Thank you so much for your time, and I am very much looking forward to your response. Please know that electronic delivery of the requested material or correspondence related to this case is preferred and accepted in lieu of paper copies via snail mail.

Your FOIA request cannot be accepted in its current form, because it would require the Agency to perform an unreasonably burdensome search. The FOIA requires requesters to "reasonably describe" the information they seek so that professional employees familiar with the subject matter can locate responsive information with a reasonable amount of effort. Because of the breadth and lack of specificity of your request, and the way in which our records systems are configured, the Agency cannot conduct a reasonable search for information responsive to your request. We encourage you to refine the scope of your request (such as including a time frame for, and narrower, more specific descriptions of, the information you seek) to enable us to conduct a reasonable search for responsive information.

Sincerely,

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
Office of Public Affairs
Washington, DC 20505

Dear Sir:

Pursuant to Title 5, Section 552, 552a and relevant provisions under the Freedom of Information Act, I am requesting any and all records on the following:

FIVE STAR TRUST
U.S. MORTGAGE AND TRUST CO.

This is also a formal request for a Vaughn Index, if needed. This would include items and documents redacted by your agency for any reason.

Thank you for your prompt reply.

Respectfully,

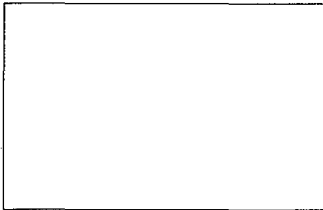

Central Intelligence Agency

APPROVED FOR RELEASE  DATE:
12-May-2010

Reference: F-2009-01312

Dear

This is a final response to your 21 June 2009 Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request received in the office of Information and Privacy Coordinator on 1 July 2009, for records on:

1. Five Star Trust
2. U.S. Mortgage and Trust Co.

Your FOIA request cannot be accepted in its current form, because it would require the Agency to perform an unreasonably burdensome search. The FOIA requires requesters to "reasonably describe" the information they seek so that professional employees familiar with the subject matter can locate responsive information with a reasonable amount of effort. Because of the breadth and lack of specificity of your request, and the way in which our records systems are configured, the Agency cannot conduct a reasonable search for information responsive to your request. We encourage you to refine the scope of your request (such as including a time frame for, and narrower, more specific descriptions of, the information you seek) to enable us to conduct a reasonable search for responsive information.

Sincerely,
